

Solution Stage: Promoting Sustainable Development in China

Wednesday, November 14th, 2018

Time: 10:45-12:15

Location: Middle Floor

Moderation

Sharon Condon, Green Center at PHBS Peking University

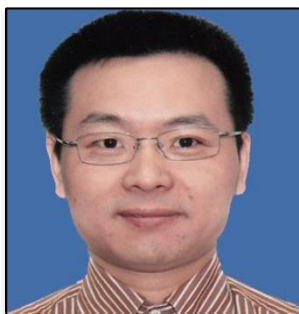

Speakers

Haifeng Huang

Prof. Dr. Haifeng Huang obtained his Ph.D. at Humboldt University in Berlin, he currently is taking the roles of the assistant dean in Peking University HSBC Business School and the director of Centre for Green Economy. Since 2012, he acted as the executive President of Ecological Development Union International.

The main research topics covered by Professor Haifeng HUANG are Sustainable Development, Economic Transition and Strategic Management. 2017 he published book about the Road of Green Transition in China.

Hualiang Lu

Hualiang Lu (Ph.D.) is professor at Nanjing University of Finance & Economics and director of Sino-German Research Institute for Sustainable Development.

Dr. Lu received his Ph.D. from Wageningen University in the field of management studies. He is editorial member of Corporate Social Responsibility and Environmental Management (Wiley), The International Journal of Corporate Social Responsibility (Springer), and book series on CSR, Sustainability, Ethics and Governance (Springer).

He has published Springer books entitled Building New Bridges Between Business and Society and Sustainable Development and CSR in China, and Journal including Chinese Management Studies, Supply Chain Management: An International Journal, and in a variety of book chapters and national journals. His research and teaching activities focus on corporate social responsibility, sustainable development, business ethics and governance, etc.

Weiwei Shi

Ms. Shi is the Director of International Cooperation Department, GoldenBee (Beijing) Management Consulting Co.,Ltd. She has worked for eight years in the field of corporate social responsibility, and has provided consulting services to multi-stakeholders including central SOEs, government departments, industrial associations, and international organizations, on CSR management, policy recommendation & implementation, CSR reporting and training. She holds the Master of Philosophy degree from the Division of Social Science, the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology.

Richard Wichmann

Dr. Wichmann is working for Becker Büttner Held as a lawyer for energy and infrastructure law with a focus on financing renewable energies & sustainability projects, energy trading, compliance and competition law.

- Lecturer at Humboldt-University & University of Wroclaw for corporate, commercial, labor and media law
- Vice Chair Ecological Development Union International, Germany
- Ph.D. at Humboldt-University, Award of the Corporate Finance and Capital Markets Foundation 2016, researcher for securities law, Law & Economics at UC Berkeley 2013

Min Yan

Dr Min Yan is a Lecturer (Assistant Professor) in Business Law at Queen Mary University of London and director of the BSc Business with Law program. He holds PhD in Law from King's College London and fellowship of Higher Education Academy.

Min specializes in corporate law and corporate governance, and CSR. His new book Beyond Shareholder Wealth Maximization: Towards a More Suitable Corporate Objective for Chinese Companies is published by Routledge in 2018. Before entering academia, Min practiced law and worked as a legal consultant for commercial companies in China.